

Earn Graduate Credit through Aurora University

In 2013, Aurora University began partnering with Social Studies School Service to offer graduate credit for completing online courses as part of the Collaborating Academic Partnership Program (CAPP).

Students enrolling in Social Studies School Service courses are able to receive an official Aurora University transcript documenting their courses. Up to nine (9) semester hours of graduate coursework taken through the Aurora University CAPP may be applied, upon initial enrollment, to Aurora University advanced degree programs with the approval of the appropriate master's degree chairperson. Aurora University is fully accredited by the North Central Association. Note: Earning graduate credit requires an additional fee of $100 per semester hour.

About AU

Aurora University has been committed to the transformative power of learning since its founding in 1893, and has educated thousands of successful professionals, including countless teachers and district administrators. The university annually enrolls more than 4900 degree-seeking students at the bachelor's, masters, and doctoral levels. In addition to its main campus in Aurora, Illinois, the university offers courses online, at its George Williams College in Williams Bay, Wisconsin, and the Woodstock Center in Woodstock, Illinois.

The Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools accredits Aurora University at the bachelor, masters, and doctoral levels. You can read more about the university here. Aurora University's education programs are accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

Transcript Requests and Transcript Questions for Social Studies School Service Students

Once you have completed your course, please submit your transcript request by accessing the Students link through WebAdvisor. Please allow two to three weeks for grades to be posted to your transcripts once your course is complete.